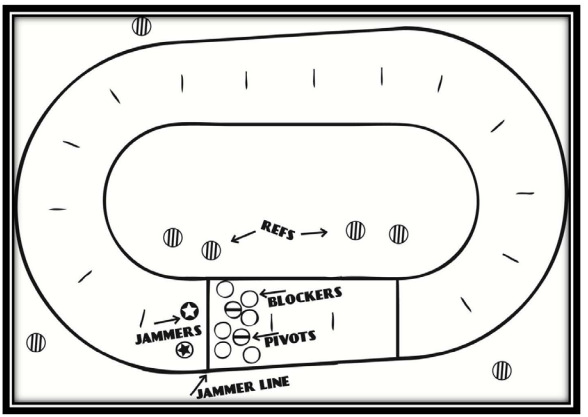
PIVOT WHAT? JAMMER WHO?

A brief overview of Flat Track Roller Derby



The JAMMER: wears a star on their helmet cover. They race around the track and earn points for every member of the opposing team they pass after their initial pass through the pack.

The PIVOT: wears a striped helmet cover. They are the leader of the pack, assisting coaching with play calls and yelling out directions to their teammates. They can also take over the position of Jammer if the star helmet cover is passed to them.

The BLOCKERS: are the three remaining players on each team with no helmet cover. Blockers try to thwart the progress of the opposing Jammer while helping their own Jammer through the pack.

AT THE START WHISTLE, the "jam" begins, the jammers start to race their way through the pack. The opposing blockers try to top them and their blockers try to help them.

The first jammer through the pack without incurring penalties becomes the "lead jammer." Lead jammer status is important because the lead jammer can strategically end the jam early (this is done by a jammer repeatedly touching her hips with her hands). This prevents the opposing team from scoring any further points in that jam.

Once through, both jammers race around the track and try to skate through the pack again, this time scoring one point for each member of the opposing team they pass legally, while remaining inbounds. They also receive points for opposing team members in the penalty box.

If neither jammer makes it through the pack penalty-free on the first lap, or if the lead jammer is sent to the penalty box, there is no lead jammer and the jam will last for two minutes. At the end of each jam, each team is given thirty seconds to field a new set of blockers and a jammer, before the whole thing starts again.

A jam can look like a free-for-all, but there are rules to follow and penalties are given for breaking them. Players can be penalized for things like back blocking, knocking a skater down with an elbow, tripping an opposing skater, for hitting an opposing skater while skating in the wrong direction, for cutting in front of other skaters after going out of bounds, for general insubordination and for fighting.

A penalty will cost a player 30 seconds in the penalty box. A player can go to the box seven times before they are ejected from the game.

About the All Stars

Albany All Stars Roller Derby (AASRD) is the Capital District's original flat track roller derby league. AASRD is a skater-owned and run business comprised of two teams, the WFTDA Charter A Team (All Stars) and the B team (Brawl Stars). Established in 2006 by a small, dedicated group of six visionary members, the league has continued to grow rapidly. We now have over 50 skaters, as well as a growing number of invaluable volunteers, referees, and non-skating officials. From our humble beginnings playing in local parking lots to our current home at the Albany Capital Center, AASRD has remained dynamic and driven. Our diverse and unique group welcomes all. In this same spirit of community within our league, we are happy and humble to serve the greater community of the Capital District. In addition to participating in numerous local events and fundraisers, a portion of the proceeds from each bout is donated to charity.

Albany All-Stars are a member of the Women's Flat Track Derby Association (WFTDA). As members of the international governing and sanctioning body, WFTDA membership has opened us up to a whole new world of competition with teams from across the U.S. and the world! In 2017, AASRD played the ultimate away game in a two-day tournament in Namur, Belgium.

Determined, strong, and agile, we play to win, but also never lose sight of having fun. As skillful as we are relentless, AASRD brings a unique brand of excitement and energy to each game that will keep you coming back for more! We can't wait to see all of our returning fans, as well as the new ones when we take the track!

About the Women's Flat Track Derby Association

Founded in 2005, the Women's Flat Track Derby Association is the international governing body for the sport of women's roller derby and a membership organization for leagues to collaborate and network. The WFTDA sets standards for rules, seasons and safety, and determines guidelines for the national and international athletic competitions of member leagues.
